Thursday evening at the Lycoum. Anyone having lost a canary-bird recently may receive information which shall lead to its re-whom we were happy to welcome back on Sunday last from foreign lands, was the popular paster of Since the Francisco with produce list from foreign lands, was the popular pastor of the Kawaiahao Church of this city, who appears to typ which is reported below. She will be in fine bealth. He resumed his work immediately upon his arrival by occupying his pulpit again, preaching at noon and in the evening to large and highly luterested audiences.

Cause or the Delay.-The non-arrival of the mail steamer at the usual time, was caused by her having to wait in Sau Francisco for the English mails, which arrived late Saturday evenlag, instead of in the middle of the week. This delay was owing to the stormy weather on the Atlantic, the mail steamer being fourteen days in making the pass-47,723 age over.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS .- A performance was given on Saturday evening by a number of Honolulu amateurs at the Royal Hawaiiau Theater, in aid of a charitable object, which may be characterized both financially and otherwise as a perfect success. The house was well filled, and the acting generally very good,-indeed in several justances, which we might specify it would have been creditable to professionals. In our chronic dearth of all amusements of this kind, it would be a blessing to the community if these performances could be given more frequently.

The newly-appointed Commission to "develop the resources of the Kingdom," will take passage next week for Mahukona, Hawall, in H. B. Majesty's steamer Fantome. Messrs. Carter, Kapena and Makee will be accompanied with Major Wodehouse; and it is probable that some assistance will be rendered to the Commission by the officers of the war ship, in sounding along the coast. The entire circuit of Hawali will be made during this trip, if practicable,

RUN OF THE ZEALANDIA .- As the last trip down of the steamer Zeslandia was the quickest on record, we append herewith the record of each day's run. Had the vessel left earlier in the day she would undoubtedly have reached port in seven days, for during Saturday night she slowed down in order to arrive about daybreak. The following is her run from 10:30 Saturday night, February 3rd, to 4 o'clock Sunday morning, February 11th. Sunday, latitude 35.84°, longtiode 125.14°

JEM MACE. -- This distinguished champion of the prize ring passed through our city on Sunday last, being one of the passengers on the steamer Zealandis, en route for Sydney. He is a thick set, burley fellow, with an enormous breadth of shoulder, and the neck of a buil. To use the words of a San Francisco paper "he has buttered into subjection every presumptions adversary that has risen before him in the prize-ring and stands on the pinnacle of his profession the example of a man who has attained the atmost limit of his profession, with no conceivable purpose of living longer at the present stage of human development." He exhibited to us the Champion Belt of the World, which he now in which an additional supply of water may be holds. It consists of a broad leather belt, nearly covered with heavy plates of silver, on which are represented various scenes and devices. He also possessess a number of gold and silver medals and testimonials which have been presented to him by admiring friends.

RACE IN A CALM .- A correspondent who was a passenger on board the Nettle on her trip up last Thursday morning, sends us an account of the manner in which she left the schooner Bonsnza behind. The Nettle left the wharf ten minutes after the Bonanza, both schooners with every sail set, of Thursday, the 8th test. This ameripected loss latter vessel dropped anchor after getting outside, was we know felt by all on board as Card Ferrice was and the Nettic passed her. The breeze then died away wholly, and the vessels lay motionless, as if on a mirror of glass. About noon a gentle breeze sprung up from the E. N. SECURITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,-We are sorry to learn that this company, of which Mr. M. McInerav is agent for this city, has recently failed, and will probably not be able to pay to policy holders more than thirty-three per cent of the value of their policies. It was organized in 1862, and had at times been quite active in securing business. In eight years after it commenced business, it was at the height of its power. It issued during that year 5,224 policies, insuring $14,088,498, and at the end HA of that year it had over thirty-seven millions of losurance in force. The Company can hardly be said to have been in a prosperous condition since that time. Its income has steadily decreased and its insurance falling off. At the beginning of this year its assets were claimed to be $3,683,186.25, and it has in force 9,349 policies, insuring #30,617,269. It will be seen that the amount of insurance in force is but a trifle over one-half what it was in 1870. There are quite a number of policies in this company held by citizens of this Kingdom, for whom the outlook is not encouraging. The fallure will be most keenly felt by those who have endowment policies maturing soon. Says the New York Independent: "This failure of the Security does not in the least alake our faith in life insurance. We showed only last week the tremendous financial strength of > Accession Day .- February 12th, which came on Monday last, was the third anniversary of the Accession of His Majesty to the throne. The event was noticed by a general display offbunling in town and in the barbor, and by a salute at noon from the Punchbowl battery. The volunteer companies, under the command of the King, turned out for a parade, accompanied by the band. A STORMT MONTH.-Last month was especially emarkable on the Atlantic for stormy weather It is reported that over two hundred vessels were lost on the English coast during the month. Among them we note the name of the ship George Green loaded with guano, and commanded by Captain Wilcox, who is well known in this place. It is supposed that all hands were lost. The only body recovered was that of the Captain's wife, which written by the Rev. J. Kekela of the Marquesas Islands, to the Rev. J. F. Pogue, dated Hivaon, November 1876, we receive information in regard to the loss of the iron ship Ada Iredale while on the way from Liverpool to San Francisco. When in Latitude 13° 30' South, and Longitude 108° 20' on the 15th of October last, her cargo of coal was discovered to be on fire, and all efforts to extinguish it being unavailing the crew took to the boats and headed for the Marquesas group, from which they were then distant some 2300 miles. The survivors, twenty-two in number, reached Hivaoa after a voyage of twenty-six days, on the 9th of November stored to health, and left by the earliest opportunity for San Francisco.

ANOTHER INSTANCE .- The new Government has again shown its good sense by concluding a bargain with Mrs. Hillebrand for a transfer of the lesses held by her of the upper part of Nouanu Valley. This will terminate the disgraceful "Cowpasture Nulsance," which the Honolulu Press has for so long a time labored to abate. If the necessary precautions are taken to prevent the treatures.

A treaty has also been negotiated with the Costa Rican Government, through Senor Don Vincente Dardsn, this being necessary on account of the abutment of some of the dams of the canal on Costa Rican February Term of the Circuit Court territory. The features of this treaty are practically the same as those of the treaty with Nicaragua.

New York, January 31st.—The Times' Washington correspondent says: Grant's recommendation for specie payments meets with little encouragement in specie payments meets with little encouragement in Congress. It is not regarded with anything more nearly approaching approval than almost entire indifference by more than a dozen men. A few realise the importance of the opportunity, but until the count of the Electoral rote is completed the subject cannot secure a hearing. When it does come up, the old difficulty of getting those who have the end in view to agree upon any one method of securing it, will stand in the way of it. Any action by this Congress to aid in hastening specie payment cannot be hoped for, and the President is deprived of the support, which ought to be cornestly given him by the law-making power, and must be content with making an official record of his views and opinions. He has most carnestly desired to see specie payment resumed during his administration, and it is a great missintune that he will not be able, by reason of the ineffitune that he will not be able, by reason of the inefficiency of the law-making power, to bring that end to January 22d, says: The Crar's Moscow speech certainly remains unqualified by any later declaration, but at the same time it is evident, judging by the tone of society in St. Petersburg and Moscow, as well as by that of public opinion in general, that this famous speech, although not officially retracted, is virtually with-drawn. The argument adduced by members of Rus-sian Society in justification of this course is that Eueian Society in justification of this course is that Eu-rope having interfered, and the Conference having failed, Russia, netwithstanding what the Emperor and at Moscow, is relieved from individual responsi-bility.
